

Invest in our California Agriculture Future

California agriculture is the backbone of our state, producing 400 commodities, contributing over $50 billion to the economy and feeding millions of people both locally and globally. It's the hard work of California's farmers, ranchers, and agribusinesses that sustains our way of life. But this industry faces ongoing challenges—from legislation and regulations to economic pressures. That's where California Women for Agriculture (CWA) steps in.

CWA is a grassroots organization powered by passionate volunteers who donate their time, expertise, and energy to advocate for policies that support the future of agriculture in California. We work tirelessly to ensure that the voices of farmers and ranchers are heard, to educate the public, and to protect the interests of this vital industry.

Your donation directly impacts the future of California agriculture. By supporting CWA, you help fund local programs and initiatives that drive change from the ground up. From influencing policy to providing scholarships and resources to the next generation of agricultural leaders, your contribution empowers our work and amplifies our collective voice.

Why Donate?
